

Ni Jian Lin

- LLM degree from Shanghai Institute of Foreign Trade in 1996
- Received his J.D. degree from the University of International Business and Economics in 2001.
- He worked for Shanghai Foreign Economic and Trade Commission, and was an attorney at King & Wood Mallesons, a founding partner of Hao Liwen & Partners and a senior partner of Rongfu Law Firm.
- In September 2003, he was the head of the third overseas training group for senior talents of Shanghai WTO Affairs Consulting Center and received three-month training in EU and WTO headquarters.
- In 2007, he was awarded as one of the top ten outstanding young lawyers in Pudong New Area for the second time.
- being awarded as the best private equity finance lawyer of Asia Pacific International Finance Forum in 2008.
- Awarded the Personality Award of Lu JiaZui Rule of Law Forum in 2014.
- In October 2018, he received one-month training in international trade and cross-border investment law at the American Society of International Law as a national leader in foreign-related lawyers. In December 2018, he was awarded the 2018 Outstanding Lawyer in China Business by the internationally renowned magazine Business Law. In 2020, 2021 and 2022, he was selected for three consecutive years by the prestigious legal rating agency Legal 500 WTO/ Listed lawyer in the field of international trade.
- Named Pudong International Chamber of Commerce Man of the Year in 2023.
- Mr.Ni is now also the part-time government legal advisor of Shanghai Municipal Commission of Commerce, the director of the International Law Practice Research Committee of Shanghai Law Association, an expert of the legal advisory pool of Shanghai Free Trade Zone Administrative Committee, a member of the Fair Trade Expert Pool of the Department of Commerce of Jiangsu Province, a member of the Expert Pool of Wuxi International Commercial Dispute Resolution and Intellectual Property Service Center, a part-time professor and master's tutor of Shanghai University of International Business and Economics. Adjunct Professor of East

China University of Political Science and Law, Arbitrator of several arbitration institutions including Shanghai International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission and Shanghai Arbitration Commission.

- He has extensive experience in international trade and anti-dumping, trade compliance, cross-border M&A, foreign direct investment, and international commercial dispute resolution. He is also an expert in international trade law and is committed to resolving various international trade disputes. He has represented dozens of domestic companies in foreign anti-dumping and countervailing investigations. He has represented dozens of large trading companies and high-tech manufacturing companies in export control and economic sanctions compliance. Mr. Ni represented a few large PV companies and the government in the highly influential EU PV double anti-dumping investigation.
- He also provided legal services to several well-known multinational companies in their investment and M&A projects in China. In recent years, he has also acted for several large domestic companies and private equity funds in their overseas investments and acquisitions. He leads the self-trade legal service team which is the leading service team in self-trade practice.
- Among them, Mr. Ni Jianlin has delivered over 100 public lectures in recent years in various forums and training sessions held by government and public institutions on the response to trade frictions between China and the United States, trends in international trade compliance, RCEP and international economic and trade rules, legal policies of free trade zones, "One Belt, One Road" and cross-border investment, etc., which have received unanimous acclaim.
- He has published more than sixty articles on international trade and investment law in domestic and international academic journals. His published book "Comparison of WTO Rules and China's Foreign Trade and Economic Law System" won the third prize of the Second National Foreign Trade and Economic Research Achievement Award in 2000. His personal monograph "Corporate Governance Structure: Law and Practice" (published by Law Press in 2001) has become a frequently cited academic monograph in the field of corporate governance research. His recent public publications, "The First Phase of the U.S.-China Economic and Trade Agreement from a Lawyer's Perspective," "The Market-Oriented Conditionality Standard: Problems and Responses," and "China Challenges the U.S. 301 Tariff Case: Can U.S. Trade Unilateralism Be Changed," have attracted widespread attention.